Our strategic business approach

We use a very effective just in time system which enable us to manage distribution logistics from manufacturer > shipping > warehousing> then dispatch to final destination of the End-users. We currently do not possess any warehousing facilities, therefore we source this particular service from very reputable freight and forwarder companies.

In addition, we also offer management of supply chain systems for the mining industry, and cater specific tailor-made solutions to add more value to our individual client requirements.

We, at Imperial Crown Logistics, are dedicated to offer complete import/export brokerage service and inventory consulting services which includes supplier-buyer identification products and maintenance requirements , purchasing and contracting.
